

Poetry in the Park

With St John's Upper Holloway Primary School

In May 2019 children from St John's UH Primary visited Waterlow Park and Lauderdale House. They explored the nature of the park and were inspired by its history.

They made prints of things that they saw in the park to decorate their poems.

The poems and artwork made by the children were displayed in the Courtyard at Lauderdale House, with photos taken by their teachers and photographer, Polly Hancock.

Waterlow park views

Waterlow Park has many views, To be seen by me and you,
Home to what we know as Lauderdale House,
Located quite near the south,
Can you hear the trees?
Swishing in the breeze?
Thank you Sydney Waterlow great owner of this park,
Who gave it to the public with all of his heart.
